

Name _____

Rhinoceros

Rhinoceros

Rhinoceros live in grasslands, swamps and forests on the Asian and African continents.

There are five different species of rhinoceros;

two of these include the Indian rhinoceros and the Black rhinoceros.

Find out the names of the remaining three rhinoceros species and write them down.

1) _____

2) _____

3) _____

Rhinoceros' have grey skin and are hairless apart from the Sumatran rhino which has long reddish-orange hair and is also the smallest of all the five species. Did you know that rhinoceros can live up to 45 years?

What are three things a rhino eats?

1) _____ 2) _____ 3) _____

Rhinos are now very rare.

Research: why rhinoceros are endangered and provide a short explanation.

Rhinoceros horns lie along the middle of their snout and grow from their skin just like hairs and claws. African rhinos have been known to have horns 1.6 metres long!

Which two species of rhino only have one horn?

1) _____ 2) _____