

ECHIDNA

Read the story.

The echidna is a monotreme, which means 'One Hole'.

They eat ants, termites and earthworms.

Echidnas lay eggs.

They have spines which protect them.

Echidnas have no teeth, but a long tongue.

Underline the words that should begin with a capital letter.

the echidna is a monotreme, which means 'one hole'.

they eat ants, termites and earthworms.

echidnas lay eggs.

they have spines which protect them.

echidnas have no teeth, but a long tongue.

Make an echidna using natural bush materials only such as pine needles, cones, sticks, pebbles etc.